promoted to the rank of Kommissar (second lieutenant).
The candidates' standard of training was rather low due to the inadequateness of the ordnance personnel and the lack of service manuals.

* Balthasar had been CO of a German artillery regiment. When serving with the Central Group of Armies, he was taken prisoner by the Soviets in the summer of 1944. He returned from the Soviet Union to Frankfurt/Oder on 18 September 1948. He is a good natured, hearty, simple person. Though he believes in Marxism, it is doubtful that he understands it. Balthasar was President of Police in Halle in March 1949. Another source reported on 11 October 1949, that Balthasar, in Jueterbog-Altes Lager, was selecting artillerymen for an artillery regiment to be activated by him in Zittau. In early 1950 it was learned that Balthasar had been transferred to Zittau and appointed CO of a local officer candidate school. He lives with his family at 3 Friedrich-Engelstrasse, Zittau.

 The required prime movers will be furnished by the Maschinenausgleichstationen (MAG-communal motor pools).
